I am a consumer that has been effected by the anti competitive practices of Microsoft. A lot of really good work has been done to hold them accountable for their actions. However a lot of work remains. It is obvious from their actions since their last consent decree that they hold the court systems in contempt and the only method of getting their attention/compliance will be through more severe penalties. Perhaps breaking them up is our only hope.

Please keep this in mind when deciding your course of action in the coming weeks/months.
